Company-profile:

Radius Consultancy Promotion Private Limited (www.radiusconsultancy.com www.radius.in), is promoted by Prof.V.Nagarajan, www.professornagarajan.com (former Professor of Madras University, India). to develop, design and deploy e-learning, e-tutoring, e-governance and e-commerce appliances and services. Over a period of five years, the company had emerged as an internationally managed elearning service provider servicing worldwide clients from USA, Europe, India and China. Radius Consultancy further successfully developed Learning Management Systems with online interactivity to enable the customers avail two different technologies under one account. Radius worked extensively on the hosting, installation, customization and support of Open Source software on elearning frameworks (www.moodle.org, www.docebo.org), etutoring (www.aspiringkidz.com), ecommerce (www.aspdotnetstorefront.com) and customer Relationship Management (www.vtiger.com).

Radius Consultancy expended all its resources to develop a state of the art elearning platform based on Microsoft Technology and Adobe Flash Media Server. The platform has the interoperability to avail managed elearning services simultaneously in synchronous and asynchronous mode. The platform is designed to cater to the learning and training needs of high schools, colleges, universities, corporate and Homes.

Through a well planned business strategy, Radius Consultancy has established partnerships with content management companies www.edhub.net and www.masterspokenenglish.com in order to offer a globally managed elearning service with integrated e-learning solutions Radius partnered with New York based Academic Excellence INC (www.academicexcellence.biz) for etutoring www.aspiringkidz.com. Similarly, for the purpose of providing innovative content management and server related services for the One Laptop Per Child (OLPC) initiative of www.olpc.org Radius formed partnerships with Global Literacy (www.globalliteracy.org).

The main promoter of Radius Consultancy, Prof.V.Nagarajan had a long teaching and research career spanning over a period of 30 years at the Madras University. His area of specialization includes Psychology, Adult
